Education

1992–1996 Forensic Science BSc (Central City State University).

Research Project: "Gas chromatographic analysis of petrol samples".

This project taught me how to manage my own time, to work with great care and attention to detail, to plan and organise a complex piece of work, solve problems that occurred and to write a detailed analytical report.

1990–1992 Central City High School

Employment History

Jul 1996 – Present CCPD, Central City

Forensic Scientist

I am assisting technicians using chemical treatments to obtain fingerprints from all types of materials. The first assessment I undertook was a visual examination as this is non-destructive. I then examined materials with glue, dye and ninhydrin.

I attended the scene of a burglary with the scenes of crime investigator, where I assisted in looking for any fingerprints left by the intruder using aluminium powder and an applicator. We dusted points of entry, exit and area of disturbance in the house.
